Preface

The Student Life Handbook of Broward Community College is published each summer by the Student Life Office. Its purpose is to provide you with a reference for campus activities, student life, and college procedures.

It is noted that although the information contained is carefully collected it will not take the place of talking to someone. Faculty, administration and college staff members have chosen this college as a place for their work, and meeting you is part of this experience.

In a large community college many students may come and go without meeting those who are a part of the college. Make every effort you can to introduce yourself. Meet professors, deans and academic advisors, you will be glad you did.

The information in your Student Handbook should be used in conjunction with the college catalog.

Academic Divisions

Division of Math and Science

The Division of Mathematics and Science offers the student an opportunity to study the mathematical and scientific concepts necessary for general education requirements, as well as further study in the areas of engineering, mathematics, science, and related fields.

Suggested program sheets are available in Biology, Chemistry, Engineering, Forestry, Geology, Optometry, Pharmacy, Medicine, Chiropractic, Astronomy, Mathematics, Physics, and Agricultural Science.

Mathematics

The Mathematics curriculum has course offerings covering a variety of needs. Course prerequisites for Physics, Engineering, and Business are included. Entering students will be assigned to the mathematics course best suited to their needs and abilities based on results from placement tests and previous mathematic course work. MAT0012, MAT0024, and MAT1034 are basic studies courses designed to correct deficiencies in the student's mathematic background. Neither MAC0012 nor MAT0024 will count toward degree requirements. However, MAT1034 counts as three semester hours of elective credit. Courses that carry mathematics credit include MAC1102, MAC1132, MAC1133, MAC2311, MAC2312, MAC2313, MAP2302, MAS2103, MGF1202, and STA2014. Applied Mathematics, MTB1310, is designated for associate of Science degree programs only. Please consult the college catalog, an advisor, or the mathematics department head for more information concerning mathematics courses and requirements.

Biological Science and Physical Science

The Biological Science Department offers courses in Biology, Anatomy and Physiology, Microbiology, Botany, Zoology and their attendant laboratories. In the Physical Science, courses in Astronomy, Geology, Physics, Chemistry, Physical Science, and some accompanying laboratory courses, are offered. Some lecture and laboratory courses are corequisites. In some instances, prerequisites apply and require a grade of "C" or higher. Refer to descriptions of individual courses in the college catalog. The science course offerings cover a variety of needs including courses for science majors as well as students in related fields. In addition, courses are provided to meet the general education requirements for non-science majors and the specialized needs of technical students. Many of the science courses are sequential. Students beginning sequence courses such as APB1811-1812, CHM1040-1041-1046E, CHM1045-1046, CHM2210-2211, PHY2048-2049, and PHY2053-2054 should plan to complete the sequence in this college to avoid transfer problems.

English

The English Department at Broward Community College has courses and programs to help students improve their writing skills. Courses in grammar and English composition can prepare one for the future, whether planning to enter a professional or technical field. Students learn to write a well organized, coherent paper such as a letter, memorandum, essay, company report, or formal research paper. Courses in creative writing provide an opportunity to develop skills in writing poetry, short stories, or drama. Literature courses range from the traditional ones which explore the various facets of life, reflect the periods in which they were written, and tell how man relates to concepts such as heroism, duty responsibility, and the male-female relationships to science fiction which speculates about the effects of scientific methods on mankind. A staff of instructors, each an expert in his or her field, is available to work with students in and out of class.

English as a Second Language

Courses in English as a Second Language are designed to give both the international student and the nonnative language learner a mastery of basic English as well as intermediate and advanced communication skills. Courses to enhance writing skills include an introduction to English as a Second Language: Grammar I and II, and Developmental Composition I and II which emphasizes writing the paragraph and the multiparagraph papers.

Courses such as Phonetics of the American Language and Communication Skills for Non-native English Speakers guide the student toward acceptable pronunciation, phrasing, and intonation of American English and its application to a variety of communication situations.

Reading

The reading courses are designed to help students improve their reading comprehension so that they can better understand required reading material. In addition, the courses also include a variety of study techniques and test taking strategies.

Journalism

The Journalism curriculum offers students courses in writing and editing, as well as the opportunity to put their knowledge to use by writing for college publications. Students have the opportunity to compete in state and national competitions and may find that the B.C.C. Journalism program provides a pathway for media employment upon graduation.

Modern Foreign Languages

Students enrolled in foreign languages will receive intensive preparation in the basic skills of the language so that they can continue their studies after graduating from Broward Community College. Modern and traditional methods help students learn the language and gain insight into the culture.

Speech Communications

Enrollment in speech courses offer students opportunities to develop public speaking and interpersonal communications skills, engage in general speech improvement and to specialize in interest areas such as Radio/Television, Argumentation and Debate, Nonverbal Communication, Group Discussion, Oral Interpretation and Voice and Diction. Students may select electives which fulfill general education requirements, as well as beginning courses of study for majors and minors in Speech Communication and Radio/Television.

Health, Physical Education Recreation, and Dance

The HPRD Department has created a core of wellness courses that are designed so that students of all ages can maintain and/or improve his/her physical health. Several of the core courses require students to participate in assessment procedures which will indicate their strength, flexibility and cardiovascular endurance levels. These target areas, coupled with nutrition plans, activity training and safety information, form the common core curriculum of the wellness courses. Each two credit hour wellness course will provide 16 hours of lecture and 32 hours of activities. The difference between the wellness courses is in the exercise method utilized by the students to achieve their desired fitness levels. A variety of methods were designed to accommodate student activity preferences.

The two credit-hour wellness core courses are:

PEM1131 Weight Training,
PEM1145 Walk/Jog/Run,
PEM1171 Aquatic Fitness,
PEM1107 Slimnastics,
PEM1930 Aerobic Movement,
HLP1081 Health Fitness.

All of the A.A. degree programs will require the student to complete four credit hours in HPRD which must include one of the above two credit-hour wellness courses. The remaining two credits will be selected from any one credit hour activity classes offered by the department.

A.S. degree students are required to complete a wellness track course to fulfill their two credit-hour requirement in HPRD.

No exemptions shall be permitted from this HPRD activity requirement because of age, veteran status, or medical reasons. (Note: students with medical restrictions must, with physician's approval, participate in appropriate HPRD activity classes on a modified basis or participate in any HPRD class specifically designed for the medically restricted with permission of the HPRD department head. Students with total activity restriction must enroll in designated HPRD lecture classes with medical verification which is approved by HPRD department head and take the lecture portion of a wellness course of their choice. (Medical restriction forms may be picked up at the HPRD office.)

Students should be aware that participation in physical activity carries a degree of risk, therefore, students are expected to follow instructions and safety precautions given by the HPRD instructor. Also, students must inform instructors of any existing medical problems. (Note: The college does not carry insurance to cover accidents which occur during college classes.)

STUDENT MEDIA

Student productions, publications and press are valuable aids in establishing and maintaining an atmosphere of free and responsible discussion and of intellectual exploration on the campus. They are a means of bringing student concerns to the attention of faculty and administration and of formulating students' opinions on various issues on the campus and the world at large. In addition, Student publications and productions serve as a training opportunity for students interested in professional journalism, either print or broadcast.

All college published and financed student media shall explicitly state that the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of either the faculty or students of Broward Community College. All media are expected to observe the standards of their respective professions. These statements are to be considered as supplementary to the established policies of the Board of Trustees as they relate to student publications.

The college will ensure free and responsible media and will not censor or approve copy in advance.

The editorial freedom of student editors and managers entails corollary responsibilities to be governed by the canons of responsible journalism, such as the avoidance of libel, indecency, undocumented allegations, attacks on personal integrity and the techniques of harassment and innuendo.

BCC Broadcasters gives the BCC student the chance to work in a television studio as well as go out on assignment to cover a story. The student will be given the opportunity to learn how to operate video equipment and will begin to grasp many other skills which are necessary to work within the broadcast industry. Since BCC Broadcasters is a student activity, the only membership requirement is to be a registered BCC student.

The second program is a series of weekend "Leadership Retreats" which are experiential in nature and cover leadership topics such as team building, problem solving, and communication skills. Four college wide retreats are held each year and are open to any interested students. Specialized retreats are created for athletes and other populations. Contact your Student Life Office for dates and to sign up.

The third is a three credit elective course on "Leadership" (SLS1261) offered through Student Affairs. The purpose of this course is to provide a variety of learning experiences and guest speakers, to assess leadership styles, and potential. The class is open to all student leaders and potential leaders. It is designed to help develop ethical value grounded leadership styles and techniques for future educational, organizational, and community leadership roles.

The and the final phase is the "Competitive Edge", a highly selective leadership Honorary. Up to 12 members are chosen from all three Campuses based on their nomination by faculty members or administrators, recommendations, interviews, and demonstrated leadership potential. Shadowing and internship experiences are provided throughout the sophomore year with the President's staff, community, and political leaders. Rights and Responsibilities

General Expectations

1. The student, upon admission, agrees to abide by all College regulations contained in the College Catalog and the Student Handbook, as well as local, state, and federal law. In addition, students are expected to exercise common sense, good taste (consistent with contemporary standards of the College community), and applied reason in their quest for an education.
2. Students are expected to prefer fact to opinion and to commit themselves to genuine enlightenment rather than to inflexible adherence to limited knowledge.
3. Students are expected to respect the rights and welfare of other members of the College community.
4. Broward Community College, like most institutions of higher learning, recognizes that a thoughtful and reasoned search for truth can be conducted only in an atmosphere free of intimidation and coercion. Consequently, violence and threat of violence, disruption and intimidating or jeopardizing actions are unacceptable to the academic community. Students are expected to examine critically, analyze and otherwise evaluate the college, its programs, and its policies and procedures utilizing the processes which appeal to reason and do not compromise the academic climate, mission, or integrity of the institution.
5. Students are expected to assume full responsibility for their individual and collective actions and to participate seriously and purposefully in campus life.

Admission to Broward Community College

Broward Community College recognizes and practices the concept of freedom of access to higher education within the context of the normal admission requirements contained in the College Catalog. Prospective students are assured that applications for admission will be judged in a fair and impartial manner, using consistently applied established criteria.

Student Records

The nature of an educational institution requires that records be kept. However, students are assured that no records shall be made or retained unless there is a legitimate need for the information contained therein. The confidentiality of a student's record will be protected and information will be released only to authorized members of the College community. Of course, a student shall have the right to inspect his own official transcript and to authorize the College to release information to extra-college sources.

Information of a counseling or non-academic nature shall not be made available to any extra-college person without written authorization from the student, except in the case of applicable federal and state laws and court orders which compel the release of information, or in cases that involve the safety of persons or property. Information of this type may be released to faculty and administration on a need-to-know basis in circumstances in which the student's development or welfare might be facilitated.

Student Academic Freedom and Responsibility

Students are free to take reasoned exception to data and views offered in the classroom and to reserve judgement about matters of opinion, but they are responsible for learning the content of any course for which they are enrolled.

The student has a right to a course grade that represents the instructor's professional judgement of his/her performance in the course without personal prejudice and to protection against improper disclosure of information concerning his/her grades, beliefs, or character which an instructor acquires in the course of his professional association with the student. Judgements of ability and character may be provided under appropriate circumstances, normally with the consent of the student.

The student is responsible for classroom behavior which is conducive to the educational process and for achieving standards of performance established by the instructor.

The instructor has final authority in all matters relating to course content, grading practices, and classroom procedures, consistent with the philosophy, purposes, and established policies of the College. A course grade is the final responsibility of the instructor. In the matter of grading it is, therefore, essential that each faculty member keep each student informed of his progress in a course.

If a student feels that he has been unfairly graded in a course, he may formally appeal to the instructor and then to the department head. If the complaint is not resolved, he may then appeal, without prejudice, using the procedure listed under "Appeal Procedure."

Class Attendance Policy

The College believes class attendance has a major role in the learning process and, therefore, expects students to attend classes regularly and on time. Exceptions to this are set forth below.

It is the responsibility of each faculty member to formulate an attendance policy for the courses he/she teaches and to ensure that this policy is communicated in writing in the course syllabus within the first week of class meetings. Such a policy shall allow no fewer than six contact hours of permitted absences for a class with 45 - 48 class contact hours in a semester before administrative withdrawal may be initiated. Should a student see a difficulty in observing the policy in this class, contact shall be made with the faculty member involved within the first week of class to work out an alternative arrangement. If this is not possible, then the student may seek an alternate class that accommodates his requirements.

Within the total number of absences permitted, there shall be no penalty for students who are absent from academic activities because of religious holy day observances, the student's serious illness, death in the immediate family, or attendance to statutory governmental responsibilities. Students shall be held responsible for the material covered in their absence(s) and shall be granted a reasonable amount of time to make up any work or tests missed for permitted absences. It is the policy of the College to seek to avoid confrontations on issues that impinge on basic statutory and constitutional rights.

Policy Statement Governing Classes With Special Instructional Requirements

Attendance requirements shall conform to applicable accreditation standards, licensure requirements, or other instructional requirements. Although one's ability to make up laboratory or clinical classes may not be possible, non-punitive provisions will be made for absences caused by illness, religious observances, or other approved reasons. Excessive absences from clinical/laboratory courses, regardless of the reason, may result in the withdrawal of the student from the course and/or necessitate that the student repeat the course.

"A student's serious illness" shall mean a condition such as pneumonia, surgery, or hospital confinement. Evidence shall be presented by the student should the faculty member request it. "Death in the immediate family" shall be interpreted to mean mother, father, spouse, child, brother, sister, or grandparents. "Statutory governmental responsibilities" refers to such matters as jury duty or subpoena for court appearance.

Appeal Procedure (Attendance Policy or Grades)

A student may appeal the application of the given faculty member's attendance policy or a grade given by the faculty member using the following procedure:

A written appeal must be given to the faculty member involved no later than six weeks after the close of the term in which the grade was awarded. The written statement shall set forth in specific detail the basis of the appeal. The faculty member shall respond within five working days of the receipt of the appeal. If the receipt is not resolved, the student may appeal within five working days of the rendering of the faculty member's decision to an ad hoc committee to be formed as follows: the faculty member involved shall select a full-time teaching faculty member, the student appealing shall select a full-time teaching faculty member, and the two faculty members so selected shall select a third full-time teaching faculty member (chair). This ad hoc committee shall hear the case and render a decision within five working days unless by mutual agreement there is an extended period. Should either the affected student or faculty member be displeased, either may appeal it within five working days to an administrative committee constituted as follows: the appropriate department head, dean of academic affairs, and provost (chair). Upon receipt of the appeal, the ad hoc administrative committee shall render a decision within five working days. In the event the appeal is in the Center for Health Science Education, the administrative committee shall be constituted as follows: the appropriate department head, a college administrator at the dean level or higher, and the executive director for the Center for Health Science Education. If upon the receipt of the decision either party desires to appeal it to the President of the College or his designee, the appeal in writing shall be made within five working days of the receipt of the decision. If an appeal from this decision is made, it shall be made within five working days to the District Board of Trustees who shall consider the appeal at the next regular meeting. The decision of the District Board of Trustees is final.

Theft, Firearms, Drugs, or Alcoholic Beverages

Offenses involving theft, and the use or possession of firearms, lethal weapons, drugs, and alcoholic beverages are essentially civil matters which address themselves to the discretion of the local, state and federal authorities, but may subject the professor or user to College Discipline when such offenses and their effects adversely interfere with the well being of, or reflect on, the college or members of the College community.

The College also prohibits the possession or use of firearms, fireworks, or lethal weapons on campus. The possession or use of any such device may result in disciplinary action by the College. In no event, however shall the individual's status as a student protect him from his responsibilities to the applicable local, state or federal laws.

Broward Community College Statement for Students on the Unlawful Possession, Use, or Distribution of Illicit Drugs and Alcohol

Standards of Conduct:

State of Florida Statutes declare that it is unlawful for any person under 21 years of age to possess or consume alcoholic beverages. Consequently, no one under the legal drinking age may consume, distribute or possess alcohol on College properties or as part of any College activity.

The College specifically prohibits, on campus, the possession, sale, exchange, consumption or giving away of any beverage of alcoholic content, and any stimulant, depressant, narcotic or hallucinogenic drug or agent having potential for physical or mental abuse, except on prescription by a physician or dentist. Florida law requires the automatic expulsion of a student who is adjudicated guilty of unlawful possession of any narcotic drug, central nervous system stimulant, hallucinogenic drug, or barbiturate. Furthermore, servers can be held civilly liable for damage caused by underage drinkers to whom they provided alcoholic beverages.

Legal Sanctions - Alcohol Offenses:

Possession or attempt to purchase alcohol by a person under the age of 21 (First Offense)

Typical Penalty:

$100 fine, 6 month probation,
100 hrs. community service.

Maximum Penalty:

60 days jail, $500 fine

Using a false Driver's License ID or allowing someone to use your Drivers License For an ID (First Offense)

Typical Penalty:

$100 fine, 6 month probation,
100 hrs. community service

Maximum Penalty:

60 days jail, $500 fine

Providing alcohol to a person under the age of 21 (First Offense)

Typical Penalty:

$500 fine, possible probation

Maximum Penalty:

60 days jail, $500 fine

Legal Sanctions-Illicit Drug Offenses:

The penalty for possession is 60 days in jail and $500 fine. Anyone selling a controlled substance within 200 ft. of a community college campus shall be subject, upon conviction, to a mandatory 3 year prison term.

Risks Associated With the Use of Illicit Drugs and the Abuse of Alcohol:

Alcohol consumption causes a number of marked changes in behavior. Even low doses significantly impair the judgement and coordination required to drive a car safely, increasing the likelihood that the driver will be involved in an accident. Moderate doses of alcohol may increase the incidence of a variety of aggressive acts, including murder, rape, armed robbery, vandalism, spouse and child abuse, and drunk driving. High doses of alcohol often cause marked impairment in higher mental function, severely altering a person's ability to learn and remember information and make judgements.

Impaired judgement as a consequence of alcohol use is linked to the acquisition of sexually transmitted diseases including AIDS among college students in the United States.

Heavy use of alcohol may cause chronic depression and suicide and is also closely associated with the abuse of other drugs. Very high doses cause respiratory depression and death. If combined with other depressants of the central nervous system, much lower doses of alcohol will produce the effects described. The use of even small amounts of alcohol by pregnant women can damage their fetus.

Long term heavy alcohol use can cause digestive disorders, cirrhosis of the liver, circulatory system disorders, and impairment of the central nervous system, all of which lead to early death. Repeated use of alcohol can lead to dependence, particularly in persons with one or more parents or grandparents who were problem drinkers. At least 15-20% of heavy users will eventually become problem drinkers or alcoholics if they continue drinking. Sudden cessation of alcohol intake by alcoholics is likely to produce withdrawal symptoms, including severe anxiety, tremors, hallucinations, and convulsions, which can be life threatening.

Illicit drugs all have some health-threatening qualities - some more than others. Examples are lung damage for marijuana, central nervous system disorders for cocaine, heroin, and hallucinogens, and liver damage for inhalants. Dependence and addiction are constant threats to users. AIDS is widely spread among intravenous drug users. Regular abuse of these substances generally exposes users to criminal elements who may influence users to become involved in criminal activities in addition to their already illegal drug use.

Information on Alcohol and Drugs and Treatment Referral:

Any Broward Community College student who suspects he/she has a substance abuse or dependency problem is encouraged to seek assistance from any College counselor or Dean of Student Affairs. The student is assured that such assistance is always provided with total confidentiality and may, with the student's consent, lead to confidential referral to appropriate professional agencies in the community.

College Disciplinary Sanctions for Alcohol/Drug Offenses: Students violating this policy are subject to probation, suspension and expulsion from the College.

Smoke Free Environment

Students and faculty at this college have the right to an atmosphere free from any adverse effects of cigarette smoke. Therefore, the following areas are designated as non-smoking throughout the college: classrooms, restrooms, hallways not accessible to open air, elevators, libraries, laboratories, conference/seminar rooms, and all other areas so designated by signs posted by college authorities. Any person wishing to report a student or faculty member in violation of this policy may do so by making the report in writing to the Dean of Students of the campus on which the infraction occurred.

Academic Honesty

Academic work submitted by a student to his instructor is assumed to be the result of his own thought, research or self-expression. Further, when a student borrows ideas from another source, he is expected to acknowledge that fact in the appropriate manner. Plagiarism is unacceptable to the College community.

Standards of Conduct

As a member of the College community, a student is expected to act responsibly in all areas of personal and social conduct. In addition to the general expectations included elsewhere in this document, students are expected to observe the academic and behavioral regulations found in the College Catalog and in this Handbook.

Violations of the standard of conduct contained herein will, in most cases, be treated as College disciplinary matters. However, in certain situations, the application of criminal and civil law and/or the injunctive process will be employed in order to preserve the system of order and freedom necessary for the maintenance of an educational environment. Any individual or group action which results in or threatens denial of any of the following may result in the application of criminal or civil law or an injunction: destruction or illegal occupation of College property; trespassing; personal jeopardy to any member or guest of the College community.

Anti-hazing Policy

Broward Community College prohibits any acts of hazing on or off campus by individual students, student groups or organizations, or any other individuals or groups associated with the college. The college defines hazing in a manner consistent with Florida Law 81-263 as follows:

Any action or situation which recklessly or intentionally endangers the mental or physical health or safety of a student for the purpose of initiation or admission into or affiliation with any organization operating under the sanction of Broward Community College. Such term shall include, but not be limited to any brutality of a physical nature, such as whipping, beating, branding, forced calisthenics, exposure to the elements, forced consumption of any food, liquor, drug, or other substance, or any other forced physical activity which could adversely affect the physical health or safety of the individual, and shall include any activity which would subject the individual to extreme mental stress, such as sleep deprivation, forced exclusion from social contact, forced conduct or any other forced activity which would result in extreme embarrassment or which could adversely affect the mental health or dignity of the individual. Any activity as described above upon which the initiation or admission into or affiliation with a community college organization is directly or indirectly conditioned shall be presumed to be a "forced" activity, the willingness of an individual to participate in such activity notwithstanding.

The enforcement of this policy shall be the responsibility of the Vice President for Student Affairs who shall promulgate and distribute specific rules at least once each academic year in a manner consistent with College policy. Additionally, each student organization at Broward Community College shall adopt by-laws which specifically declare intent to adhere to this policy.

Individuals who violate this policy shall be subject to the disciplinary procedures and penalties outlined on Policy 6Hx2-5.06 and Procedure A6Hx2-5.06.

Organizations or other college groups who are accused of violating this policy shall be afforded a hearing before the College Discipline Committee. In the event guilt is determined, the committee may recommend monetary fines, suspension of campus privileges, suspension of all activities, or expulsion of the organization from the institution.

Sexual Harassment

The policy on sexual harassment defines such sexual harassment, and the following procedures set forth the conduct personnel shall observe in preventing or in dealing with instances of sexual harassment.

Within the college, a supervisor, faculty member, or administrator who uses implicit or explicit coercive sexual behavior to control, influence, or affect the career, salary, or job of an employee or student is engaging in sexual harassment. Similarly, an employee of the college who acts in this manner in the process of conducting college business is engaging in sexual harassment. In addition, any faculty member, staff members, or administrator who participates in deliberate or repeated unsolicited verbal comments, gestures, or physical contact of a sexual nature which are unwelcome and interfere with the work productivity of an employee or academic performance of a student is also engaging in sexual harassment.

It is not the intent of the college to regulate the social interactions or relationships freely entered into by employees that do not affect or interfere with an employee's job performance.

Alcohol use, Marketing, and Promotion

In view of the public opinion and legislative action involving alcohol abuse, the following policies are established regarding both the use of alcohol and marketing practices associated with alcohol beverages at BCC.

1. Alcoholic beverage advertising on campus or in institutional media, including, promotion of events as well as products, should not portray drinking as a solution to the personal or academic problems of students or as necessary to social, sexual, or academic success.

2. Informational marketing programs should include educational material regarding responsible and legal use of the product represented.

3. No sampling of alcoholic beverages during campus marketing programs is permitted.

4. Alcoholic beverages are not to be provided for awards to individual students or student organizations.

5. Promotional activities should not be associated with existing campus events without prior knowledge and consent of the Director of Student Life.

6. Local off-campus promotional activities, primarily directed at students, must be developed in consultation with the Director of Student Life.

7. Consumption or storage of alcoholic beverages on or in college property will not be permitted. This includes any college facility, boat, or vehicle.

8. Consumption of alcoholic beverages by students during a college-sponsored trip is not permitted.

9. During the promotion of off-campus events where alcoholic beverages will be available, advertisement of the availability of alternative non-alcoholic beverages must be provided on all promotional materials.

10. During the college sponsored events at off-campus facilities where alcoholic beverages are available, the college does not support or promote alcoholic consumption by students.

11. Student organizations, who, on their own time, in the name of the organization, sponsor off-campus events where alcoholic beverages are available, must also have alternative beverages available. The college is in no way responsible for these events.

Student Disciplinary Procedures

The administration of student discipline is flexible and is consistent with the philosophy and educational objectives of Broward Community College.

In those cases, not likely to result in a termination of the student's relationship with the college, the campus Dean of Student Affairs shall have responsibility for the administration of student discipline and may impose varying degrees of disciplinary probation. Disciplinary probation may include, but is not limited to any or all of the following sanctions:

Written reprimand, loss of certain campus privileges; including participation in intercollegiate and intramural activities, student organizations, student government; entry on the permanent record; compulsory class attendance; monetary fines; penalty work hours and or notification of parents if the student is under 18 years of age.

The campus Dean of Student Affairs may refer cases to the Vice President of Student Affairs for further action. In all cases the Vice President for Student Affairs shall decide whether a case is to be considered by the College Discipline Committee.

College Discipline Committee

The Discipline Committee will be composed of five members as follows: three from the Academic Standards Committee, one student, and chaired by the designated College Hearing Officer. These members will be appointed by the Academic Standards Committee Chairperson at the beginning of the school year. Four alternates will also be selected.

The Committee will meet on an as needed basis to administratively review and make recommendations to the Vice President for Student Affairs regarding student discipline issues that have not been resolved at the campus level and have been determined appropriate by the Vice President for Student Affairs.

In more serious cases, likely to result in the suspension or expulsion of the student from the academic community, the Discipline Committee shall have primary authority.

In cases in which a student's physical or emotional safety is jeopardized, or when the general safety of other members of the College community or College property is threatened, or when the orderly progression of the lawful educational objectives of the College are jeopardized, the student may be removed from the campus community by the President or his designated representative pending a hearing.

In all cases, rights of the students and of Broward Community College shall be protected. The following procedures are designed to provide for this protection.

Due Process

1. The student and all parties involved, including appropriate College officials shall be notified in writing of the alleged violation. Both parties must submit a list of witnesses, if applicable, to the College Hearing Officer no later than 24 hours, prior to the hearing. Written notification will contain a detailed description of the charges, a list of witnesses, if any, and the date, time, and place of the hearing. The hearing shall be held no earlier than 48 business hours from the date of notice. In some cases the student may waive his/her right to a hearing and elect to accept the decision of the appropriate Campus Dean of Student Affairs.

2. The student may continue to attend classes and college activities until the administrative hearing is held by the College Discipline Committee and pending any appeal at the discretion of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

3. The student is entitled to speak at the administrative hearing and to have an advisor of his/her choice present.

4. The student may ask questions of any College official or witness at the hearing and may introduce any evidence relevant to his/her case.

5. The College reserves the right to conduct the hearing in a formal or informal manner and may follow any procedure which incorporates fair play and the elements of due process.

6. The student may request a written report on the results and findings of the hearings. Such a report shall be issued within 3 business days following the decision of the Vice President of Student Affairs.

7. The College will keep a record of the proceedings which will be made available to the student in the event of an appeal.

8. Any student who is suspended or expelled from Broward Community College by action of the BCC Discipline Committee and approved by the VPSA shall have the right to appeal said decision to the President. Any appeal must be made in writing and in all cases shall be filed no later than the fifth school day following the student's receipt of the Committee's decision.

Within three days after the receipt of an appeal, the President shall appoint a three-member ad hoc Appeals Committee composed of disinterested faculty who shall inquire fully into the case and make a recommendation to the President. In some cases an ad hoc committee and/or the student may elect to proceed de novo, thus affording the student an opportunity to present his case in full for a second hearing. In all cases the elements of due process described above shall apply. The President's ad hoc Appeals Committee, after a full and complete review and investigation, shall make its recommendation to the President and he, in turn, will render a decision within three days.

Any student who is dissatisfied with the President's decision may file a written appeal, through the President to the District Board of Trustees. The decision of the District Board of Trustees shall be final.

2. Complete the petition with explicit rationale pertaining to the request.
3. Include all pertinent and relevant documentation, i.e., medical explanations, course outlines, transcripts from previous institutions, etc.

5. The student must obtain the signatures of the advisor or counselor and the campus Dean of Student Affairs or the Dean of Academic Affairs.
6. Petitions should be received at the Fort Lauderdale Center no later than one week prior to the Academic Standards Committee's published meeting dates. 7. Academic Standards Committee meeting dates, places, and times may be obtained from the offices of Student Affairs on each campus. The meeting is generally in the afternoon and lasts approximately 3 hours.

8. It is strongly recommended that students be present for the Academic Standards meeting, if at all possible. In cases such as suspension or dismissal from BCC or another college, students will be required to attend the meeting. All students will be notified of the time and place of the meeting.

9. Each petition is carefully reviewed and a recommendation is made by the committee to the Vice President for Student Affairs. The Vice President then approves or disapproves the actions of the Academic Standards Committee.

10. Written notification of the results of the petition will be given to the student through the Registrar's Office of the Broward Community College Fort Lauderdale Center Registrar's Office.

Graduates with an Associate of Arts (A.A.) degree are guaranteed certain transfer rights under the Florida Articulation Agreement, Rule 6A10.024. Broward Community College graduates in an A.A. degree program, seeking admission to a Florida public university, will enjoy these benefits:

1. Guaranteed admission to one of the state universities, but not necessarily to a limited access program.
2. All credits earned toward the A.A. degree will transfer to the university.
3. The university catalog in effect the year the A.A. degree student enrolled at Broward Community College will remain in effect, provided enrollment is continuous.

The receiving university reserves the right to determine what courses must be taken for a baccalaureate degree. All A.A. degree credits, although transferred, may not satisfy some specific program prerequisites. A student transferring before completion of the A.A. degree does not have the above named guarantees.

AIDS, AIDS Related Complex (ARC) or Positive HTLV-III/LAV Antibody

The College recognizes that AIDS and AIDS Related Complex (ARC) represent significant public health threats of increasing proportions. A dual program of education/prevention for all students and staff as well as counseling and other services for those affected with the disease represent appropriate responses as the institution seeks to be of assistance.

Students or employees who have Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome (AIDS) or a positive HTLV-III/LAV antibody are also a concern of the College. Response to each known case will be according to its own particular facts. Any student/employee with AIDS should notify the College of any changes in his/her medical condition which might pose any risk of potential transmission (i.e. open sores, bleeding, injury, and the like).

Any information concerning the affected person's medical condition will be handled as confidential information as established in Florida Statute 381.609 and by the American College Health Association's Recommended Standards and Practices for a College Health Program, Fourth Edition, 1984:

"In general, it is recommended that no specific detailed information concerning complaints or diagnosis be provided to faculty, administrators, or even parents, without the expressed written permission of the patient in each case. This position with respect to health records is supported by an amendment to the Family Rights and Privacy Act of 1974."

Therefore, no person, group, agency, insurer, employer, or institution will be provided any medical or other information without the prior specific written consent of the affected person.

On a case-by-case basis health science student/employees will be evaluated to determine the risk of transmission. If necessary, the student/employee may be required to adhere to policies related to "any" communicable disease.

The College will seek to work cooperatively with all appropriate community, health/mental health organizations and agencies as BCC provides programs responsive to this policy.

The CLAST Test

The state of Florida has developed a test of college-level communication and computation skills. The test is called the College Level Academic Skills Test (CLAST).

A passing score on the test is required by Florida Statutes and rules of the State Board of Education in order to receive an A.A. degree and be admitted to upper division status in the State University System. Students who do not pass all four components of the test will not be awarded the Associate of Arts degree.

The campus Counseling and Registration offices on each campus will advise students how and when to register for the CLAST. CLAST review courses are offered prior to each test administration. Students are encouraged to enroll in these courses.
